

Santa Clara Convention Center Goes Online With Landport™s Internet Driven Work Order Management

Landport fully automates on-demand and preventive maintenance work orders for convention center operations.

For Immediate Release

SANTA CLARA, Calif./EWORLDWIRE/May 9, 2006 --- The Santa Clara Convention Center has officially selected Landport™s online facility management system to manage its convention facilities, including all meeting rooms, public areas and equipment. The convention center has completed Landport implementation and is now fully operational.

"The Santa Clara Convention Center now has the ability more efficiently monitor facility operations and control costs," said Don Riccardi, general manager of the Santa Clara Convention Center. "Thanks to Landport, we™re providing higher levels of service to our exhibitors and guests. The visitor experience is dramatically improved."

Landport Systems, Inc. is the global leader in Internet Driven(R)Work Order Management and Preventive Maintenance for convention centers, corporations, commercial and residential property. Government users include city, county and state governments, as well as the U.S. Federal government. Landport fully automates tenant, employee, facility and property manager, maintenance staff and service provider communication, enabling fast and efficient resolution of both on-demand service requests and preventive maintenance. Using Landport, managers significantly cut costs and improve levels of service.

Landport has enabled the Santa Clara Convention Center to reduce its facility maintenance costs and improve productivity. Landport is a highly cost-effective platform for executing daily work order flow, as well as for review and approval of larger projects requiring significant capital expenditure. The Santa Clara Convention Center chose Landport for its on-line capabilities, preventive maintenance and operational reports.

"We are delighted to bring the Santa Clara Convention Center on-line with Landport," said David George, Landport™s president and CEO. "The Convention Center exemplifies a typical application of Landport™s work order management system, providing tremendous value from the very moment it goes live."
