COOP Consulting Signs Eight Federal Agencies for Certified COOP Training

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Reston, VA/EWORLDWIRE/December 19, 2002 - COOP Consulting (www.coop-consulting.com) today announced it has now signed students from eight federal agencies for its certified Continuity of Operations training, done in conjunction with DRI International. This includes large-scale programs with two early responder agencies.

COOP Consulting's training, delivered in both private and public venues by certified trainers, has three formats for clients.

- * The basic curriculum is done in four parts, each 2 1/2 days, and is focused on inexperienced continuity planners.
- * An advanced program covers the same material for more experienced professionals, and takes a week.
- * An exam preparation course lasting a total of 2 1/2 days is geared for very experienced continuity planners.

All three curriculums end with a certification test, to enable participants to join the world-wide body of certified continuity planning professionals, as administered by the DRI International.

"Considering the long decision times traditional in government procurement, we've been pleasantly surprised by the number of federal agencies sending people to our classes, in such a short time after our launch," said Chris Alvord, CEO of COOP Consulting. "It speaks to the quality of the courses, at a time when agencies are trying to improve their COOP planning process."
